

Employment Counselling

Service Description

SOPA clients continue their job search journey by meeting with an employment specialist online for a comprehensive assessment of skills, qualifications and experience. This includes the identification of short and long term career goals and the development of an individualized work action plan. In addition to assisting clients to access reliable information regarding certification and labour market trends, employment counselling also involves substantial support in learning job search skills.

Objective

SOPA's pre- arrival employment counselling helps clients find work in their fields of expertise. The individualized one-on-one employment counselling sessions and the services offered prepare clients to be work-ready prior to arriving in Canada.
